Mr. Lloyd George, Marquis Curzon, Mr. Churchill, Sir Worthingcon Evans, Mr Chamberlain, Lord Lee, the Earl of Cavan (Chief of the Imperial General Staff), and acting Chief of the Admiralty Air-Marshal Trenchard were present at a conference of Ministers at Powning Street which dealt with the problems of the defence of the neutral zones and the Straits.

Canada to Send Air Corps?

Toronto, September 18. Although the Gewornment has not considered the matter, it is generrilly felt that a contingent of Canadians will be sent to Turkey. Easier Feeling in London.

London, September 18 An easier feeling prevails to-day, following statements in the evening papers, which agree in declaring that British official circles'

The opinion is expressed that a conference will be arranged in the next few days at which a nearer approach to a settlement will be reached than ever before. It is polikely that troops will be called from the Dominions. This would only be necessary if Kemalist aggression created an intolerable position.

The Cabinet sat two hours this afternoon and adjourned till the evening. It is expected that Marquis Curzon will go to Paris after the conference, in vi-w of the urz-ncy of discussing the situation with the French Government.

Preparations are Precautionary Not Aggressive.

The uneasiness created by Saturday's semi-official statement has evoked a statement from an authoritative source declaring that there is no question of the Cabinet undertaking anything in the nature of a new war or planning new naval or military o erations. The question is simily one of protecting the British, French, and Italian troops, the neutralised zones and the Straits, not of making war upon anyone. THE PROBLEM OF TURKEY. Landon, Sept. 18.

The necessity for wholehearted Anglo-French co-operation as the most effective means of convincing Kemat Pashan of the unwisdom of challenging Allied inducace is insisted on in to-day's press. The Times especially reasons with France, which received the British statement of 16th inst. semawhat chillily, especially as regards armed intervention if necessary. It points out that both nations are bent on preserving the permanent freedom of the Straits. The difference of opinion is chiefly one of method, France farouring sole reliance on diplomacy, while Britain thinks it should be backed up by visible and tangible evidence of earnestness. The intention to defend the neutral zones shows that Britain is equally reluctant as France to engage in armed conflict, as she recognises the incalculable consequences of resorting to foreible action, even in unquestionable vindication, of rights. The Times thinks both nations are guilty of faults since the Armistice and must adopt a give and take attitude.

INTERPORT AQUATIC CONTEST.

Final Night's Events.

The third evening of the swimming interport contest was probably the hest of all, says the N. C. D. News. Already at 8.15 a queue had formed outside the Rowing Club, and it was not long after SUM when the doors were opened that the majority of the seating accommodation was taken up by ticker holders. Numbers of people who had not had the foresight to purchase tickets in advance were unable to obtain admission. Excitement ran high, for on the conclusion of the sports the preceding evening (Friday) the two great rival ports, Hongkong and Shanghai, had tied the score at 24 point each. The first interport event was the 100 yards back stroke race, and here Hongkong's champion at this style of swimming justified his selection by winning comfortably in the good time of 84.4.5 sec The General Secretary of the In Shanghai's 1922 champion, Jensen. covered the distance in 90 secs. and scored 3 plus 1 for this event. against Shanghai's 2, and led by

The water polo match gave Shanghai the final lead by 5 points, and thus this very closely-contested interport was brought to a happy ending for the local team by a victory for Shangbai to the tune of 42 points to $7. At the end of the galn an adjournment was made to the Rowing Club gymnasium where the Captain of the Club. Mr. R. L. Sarjeant, assisted by Messrs. J. H. Mc-. Gregor, A. K. Brown and C. J. Encarnacea, distributed the prizes to the successful competitors. Mr. Sarjeant then made a happy little speech, complimenting Hongkong on their fine showing, and expressing the regret that all felt that misfortune in the shape of illness had marred the chances of the Kobe visitors, and finally congratulating the local team on their hard-fought victory. -

CAPITAL LEVY "A DESPERATE REMEDY."

The various forms of capital levy were outlined and discussed by Sir Josiah Stamp, formerly assistant secretary to the Inland Revenue Board, at the Liberal Summer School at Oxford. In an address on national finance Sir dosiah said that, financially speaking, the British people were still in the war, and there was need for the salf-same self-sacrifice and patriotism that were shown during the fighting. There could not be an outright capital levy that would not be honey combed with adjustments and payments over a series of years. The question of whether a capital levy actually was better than the ordinary income-tax with a sinking fund for debt, resolved itself into a question of whether the drop in prices during the To Singapore, Batavia, Samarang . period in which instalments would have to he paid was more than in the long dis-To Singapore, Batavia, Samarang tance period in which the sinking fund charges would be paid. A capital levy was a desperale remedy, not to he adopted with enthusiasm. There would be a stronger case for a capital levy when prices become stabilised. > hence. SUGAR AS DANGERQUS CARGO. At first thought it would seem, that dynamite was a cargo to YORK be carefully avoided, but there are far more dangerous cargoes. Take, for instance, a, cargo of sugar! Put hundreds of tons of cane sugar in casks in the hold of a vessel and let the ship steam through a spell of hot weather. The odour is sickening. Many sailors cannot get the sweet taste out of their mouths and crave vinegar or lemon juic. - anything sour. They lose their appetites and are always glad when a voyage on which the cargo was sugar is over. Coffee is as disacreeable as sugar, in addition to being very dangerous. Cotton is a really dangerous cargo. If a little oil happens to touch raw cotton the result is spontaneous combustion. A single bale of cotton saturated with such an oil as boiled linseed and lying at the bottom of a hold can be compared only to a slow match attached to a bomb. Acids and other chemical- form dangerous cargoes. Carbide of calcium, for example, is more dangerous than dynamite. Acetylene gas is made from this chemical, and the gas is constant. . ly given off if the product is exposed to air. Most shipmasters dislike to carry drams of acid. A Chilean ship-recently put in at; the Falkland Islands leaking badly. Her cargo was made up of drums of acid and chalk. The word had leaked from the drums and mixed with the chalk, forming carbonic acid in the hold.

Sir,-With regard to "Robt. MacWhirter's" comments of Saturday, let me assure him that quite realise that, there are many dialects spoken by Englishmen. The query which "Robt. Mac Whirter" puts to me regarding the term "Albion" is easily answered. Of course, it's not Scottish; and if the folk who have named a certain block of Louses "Albion Terrace" think they are giving it a Scottish designation, they are sadly astray.

"Albion" is synonymous with "England." It was the name given by the invaders in ancient HE Ordinary General Meet- times to England, supposed to ing of the above Company have been suggested by the white Yours etc.

LIVELY DOINGS AT PAKHOL.

Woman Commander of Bandit Troops. A Pakhoi correspondent writes us under date of September .5th.

as follows :--General Wong Ming-tong has made raids into the Luichow and Kochow Prefectures, overpowering and disarming small defence forces there belonging to General Wong Keung. By this means he has considerably strengthened his own forces. He has since retired to Limchow City, where he made preparations to attack Hamchow City, and it is now reported that his forces have entered this city, after considerable fighting. During the last three weeks, the Pakhoi district has been under the control of bandit troops commanded by the wife of Lo Honcho, a former bandit chief, who tost his life in the fighting against Kwangsi. The Pakhoi people are very much afraid of these troops; they have a bad record for looting, killing and burning. Three days ago, for the safety of the town, a force of General Wong Ming-tong's troops mustered all the bandit troops in the town and marched them out in front of them en route for Limchow City, but whether they ever reached there is not known. The following day, a force of firming, if thought fit, as a Special being to fill the post of Minister of these bandit troops, said to be 400 strong, gathered at Kotak, Another Peking message says a place three miles to the east of arming of his forces, but Wong visions were not supplied, she has already prepared his defences [said her men had decided to loot] and the situation is regarded as the town. THE UNSPEAKABLE TURK

Before the great war it was declared that the Unspeakable furk must be cleared out of Europe, bag and baggage. The Freaty of Sevres at least went a long way towards that end Owing to various circumstances. that Treaty has not been ratified. First there was the death of King | The Child-Labour Problem. Australia Plans for Prompt Despatch of Troops.

Malbourne, September 18. The Australian Press generally favours the despatch of troops to Gallipoli, but hopes that the horrors of war will be averted. It is pointed out in official quarters that Australia is better equipped than in 1914. Plans are being discussed for the prompt despatch of troops should the contingency arise. The stock-markets are depressed. Canada Wants More Information.

Ottawa, September 18. The Cabinet throughout this morning deliberated upon the invitation to send troops to the Dardanelles and adjourned without a decision. The Premier subsequently stated that the invitation did not contain sufficient information to form the basis of a decision. The Government is requesting more.

Labour Against War.

Landon, September 18. Signs are ir creasing that Labour is throwing its weight in favour of a settlement by negotiation in the Near East. Several leaders, in interviews, dwelt on the danger, if war is becun, that it will spread widely, and its effect on the Moslem populations. They urged calling a conference to readjust the Turkish boundaries on principles of hard, good sense. Mr. Allen, treasurer of the Independent Labour Party, said that the Labour world would oppose the coming new war and make its conduct impossible by doing all they could to stop munitions and men being sent.

Call to Greek Army in Thrace. According to message from Athens, it is stated in the Press that the Cabinet has decided to reinforce the army in Thrace by completing its technical equipment. The Minister for War addressed the army in Thrace admonishing it to exercise redoubled vigitance on behalf of the national honour and prestige.

The Cabinet has decided temporarily to call the 1903-09 class to the colours for the purpose of strengthening the Gendarmerie.

The French Attitude. Paris, September 19.

A semi-official reply to the much-criticised British document of the little inst forecasts that if Lord Hardinge, whem M. Poincare will receive to-day, intends to officially communicate the plan laid Turkey. The neutralisation of the value of $155, during removal down therein, it is extremely doubtful if he will obtain M. Poincara's Britain that France adhered to the agreement to maintain the neutrality of the Straits zone. The Note reflects the view of the Allies that the joint pacific demarche already made to Kemal Pasha at cresent suffices, while military intervention would appear provocative to the Turks, who have already been made fanatic by their victories, and would acerbate a difficult position.

A Flat Refusal. The semi-official statement mentions that a few French bat. talions at Chanak have been withdrawn during the past few days and henceforth it does not wish to furnish military contingents, Friday and Saturday next. Book- preferring to depend on the results of diplomatic action. It asserts that Italian feelings are identical with France's: that the Yugo-Slav Foreign Minister, M. Nintchitch, will inform London of Yu.o-Slavia's unbellicose desires and that a similar impression has been received from Bucharest. It finally declares: that it is paradoxical and even inadmissible to call on the Greeks to defend the Straits after their complete defeat in Asia Minor. The Note concludes by flatly stating that France will not associate herself with inter-allied military intervention but will continue her conciliatory efforts.

CAPITAL LEVY "A DESPERATE REMEDY."

The various forms of capital levy were outlined and discussed by Sir Josiah Stamp, formerly assistant secretary to the Inland Revenue Board, at the Liberal Summer School at Oxford. In an address on national finance Sir Josiah said that, financially speaking, the British people were still in the war, and there was need for the self-same self-sacrifice and patriotism that were shown during the fighting. There could not be an outright capital levy that would not be honey combed with adjustments and payments over a series of years. The question of whether a capital lovy actually was better than the ordinary income-tax with a sinking fund for debt, resolved itself into a question of whether the forop in prices during the period in which instalments would have to be paid was more than in the long dis-To Singapore, Batavia, Samarang tance period in which the sinking fund charges would be paid. A capital levy was a desperate remedy, not to he adopted with enthusiasm. There would be a stronger case for a capital levy when prices become stabilised. It would not he possible to state r ughly even what the income of the country

was until eighteen months

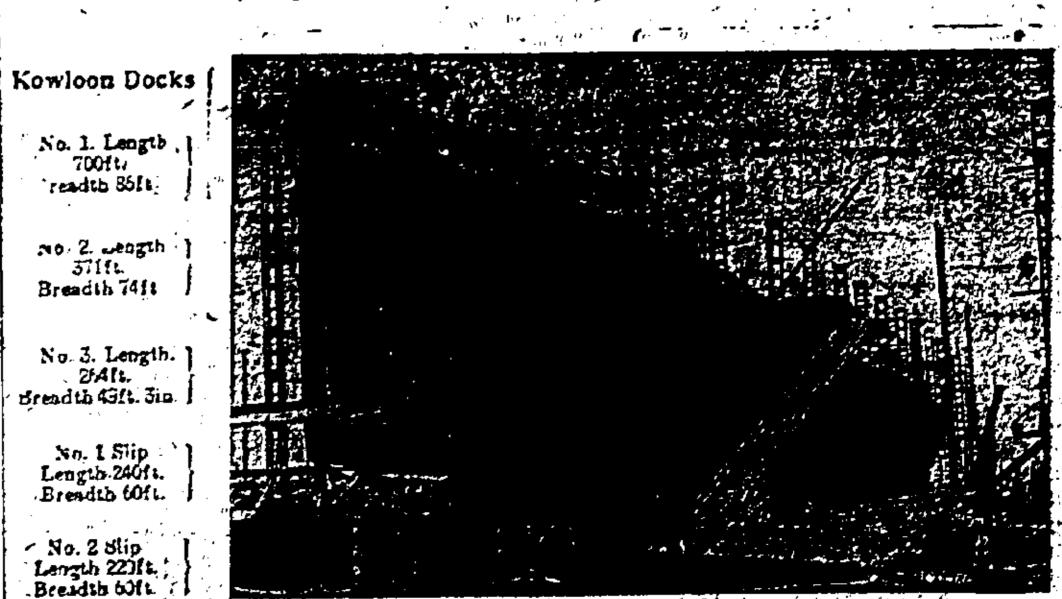

At first thought it would seem . that dynamite was a cargo to YORK be carefully avoided, but there are far more dangerous cargoes. Take, for instance, a cargo of sugar! Put hundreds of tons of cane sugar in casks, in the hold of a vessel and let the ship steam through a spell of bot weather. The odour is sickening. Many sailors cannot get the sweet taste out of their mouths and crave vinegar or lemon juic. - anything sour. They lose their appetites and are always glad when a a voyage on which the cargo was sugar is over. Coffee is as disagreeable as sugar, in addition to being very dangerous. Cotton is ' a really dangerous cargo. If a little oil happens to touch raw cotton the result is spontaneous combustion. A single bale of cotton saturated with such an oil as boiled linseed and lyings at the bottom of a hold can be compared only to a slow match attached to a bomb. Acids and other chemicals form dangerous cargoes. Carbide of calcium, for example, is more dangerous than dynamite. Acetylene gas is made from this chemical, and the gas is constantly given off if the product is exrosed to air. Most shipmasters dislike to carry drams of zcid. A Chilean ship recently put in at the Falkland Islands leaking badly. Her cargo was made up of drums of acid and chalk. The acid had leaked from the drams and mixed with the chalk, forming carbonic acid in the hold. This gas is deadly and the crew could not make repairs. Mean- time, the acid had gathered in the bottom of the ship and had eaten away the iron frames there.

SHIPS' SIDE-LIGHTS.

The following is the official description of a recent invention relating to ships' sidelights .-- In a ship's sidelight of the kind described in the parent specification. and comprising a glass holder provided on its periphery with alternate plain and screwed parts for engaging similar alternate plain and screwed parts on the interior of the frame, an adjustable stop is provided to limit the rotational movement of the holder in the frame, so as to ensure the desired degree of tightness on the packing. The holder is mounted in a ring hinged to the frame, and is fitted with a handle moving in a slot in the ring. A brass strip, whose length can be, adjusted by filing, is fitted in the groove to. where the glass bolder swivele in its frame, the stop may comprise a bent strip secured either to the to the ring, or between the lower lug on the half ring and the corresponding lug on the frame. The cover, which is provided on the periphery with alternate screwed and plain portions engaging alternate screwed and plain portions on the interior of the holder. may also be provided with a stop. to limit its rotational movement. The stop abuts the screw in the holder in the lim ting positions. The lengths of the screwed and and plain portions are arranged so that the cover can only engage " the holder in one position. The locking nuts on the handle may be of special form to fit a special spanner so as to prevent operation of the device by unauthorised. OIL POLLUTION OF HARBOURS.

Increasing damage is being done by the oil pollution of the sea, caused in the vicinities of harbours and watering-rlaces. The evil, indeed, is more extensive than is generally realized. But in the opinion of the Mercantile Marine Service Association the Bill that is now before the House of Lords. omits a very necessary factor, viz. adequate provision being made for the safety of the ships that now would be compelled to go outside the three-mil+ limit and discharge into the open sea any water containing oil. The Council of the Association agrees hat measures must be taken to prevent oil going into the water. but unfortunately British legislators have overlooked the very grave danger or oil-carrying steamers (and there are many). that will not "stan ' up " without ballast in their cargo tanks, involving a great risk in safety of life: a question that must be tared before these regulations are passed into law. Of course. should the suggestion be carried ... that barges or tanks will be provided at each port for these residues to be pumped into all would be well, but this obligation must be made compulsory. and not left to the whims and caprices of any dock authority or sainlowners. The liver of seamen, and may be, passengers are at stake, and the Conneil of the Mercantile Marine Service Atsociation, while agreeing with the main principles of the Bill, is giving much consideration to the risks in the Bill in its present form: which have, in its opinion, been entirely overlooked.

A TROUBLED VOYAGE. The Jugo-Slavian steamer Sraj. belonging to the Dubrovacka Parnbrodska Plovidba, of Dubrownik, arrived in Caylon recentle from Australia after a voyage of no less than 33 days. Two weeks after she left Melbourne, bound for Bombay with a carro of wheat, her engines broke down, and she had to remain hove to for four days whilst repairs were effected A few days later annthor breakdown occurred, necessirating a stoppage of two days. During that time the monsoon was blowing and heavy stas wire running, rendering the work all the more difficult, and as the vessel was without a wireless installation she was unable to attract the attention of those steamers which passed her in the distance. She managed eventually to reach Colombo, where she remained for nearly air weeks. Japanese protest to peking.

Following the bombardment by Chinese soldiers of a Japanese man-of-war in the upper reaches of the Yangiza. Mr. Obsta. Japaness Minister at Paking, has filed a protest with the Clinese Government.
